Dear Resident,

As you may have heard, a resident of your residence hall has tested positive for a communicable disease. As a result, portions of your building have been directed to quarantine in place by the San Luis Obispo County Department of Public Health. This means that residents of that floor may not attend in-person classes or other gatherings, but may leave the hall to obtain meals, mail, and other personal needs like medication or academic supplies as long as they wear a face covering, keep distance from others, and return to their room to uphold the quarantine.

We understand this news may be concerning to you. At this time the San Luis Obispo County Department of Public Health does not believe residents on other floors are at risk, and they have not directed any change in your living status or ability to move about campus and the community. The San Luis Obispo County Department of Public Health is already engaged in aggressive contact tracing related to the individual who has tested positive for a communicable disease, and should they direct an individual or wing of the building to quarantine, both the San Luis Obispo County Department of Public Health and the university will inform you.

There are steps you can take to promote public and personal health. Continue to abide by the directions from the university including wearing a mask whenever possible, keep appropriate physical distance from others, and regularly wash your hands. University Housing will be providing additional sanitation and disinfecting supplies to the building. Please regularly self-monitor yourself for symptoms including:

- Fever or chills
- Cough
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Fatigue
- Muscle or body aches
- Headaches
- New loss of taste or smell
- Sore throat
- Congestion or runny nose
- Nausea or vomiting
- Diarrhea

If you develop any of these symptoms, and you do not feel they are related to ongoing medical conditions like allergies, etc, please contact Campus Health and Wellbeing at 805-756-1211 to schedule an appointment to be evaluated by one of our medical providers. Additional resources that you may want to consider utilizing include Counseling Services. Appointments can be scheduled at 805-756-2511.

We encourage you to share this communication with your parents/supporters.

Sincerely,

Keith B. Humphrey, Ph.D.
Vice President for Student Affairs
